Beyond Barbie dolls: Wyoming tries again at diversification

Wyoming Gov. Matt Mead shakes hands during the Outdoor Recreation Task Force Meeting Thursday at the Historic Sheridan Inn.

Governor visits with recreation task force

BY JULIE PACE, EILEEN SULLIVAN AND JAMIE RIGA
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Donald Trump, in an apparent warning to his fired FBI director, said Friday that James Comey had told him three times that he wasn’t under FBI investigation.

“I said, ‘If it’s possible, would you please look into me... am I under investigation?’” Trump said in an interview Thursday with NBC News. He said the discussions happened in two phone calls and at a dinner in which Comey was asking to keep his job.

Comey confirmed Trump’s account. Late Friday that James Comey, his fired FBI director, said he had better hope there are no “tapes” of their conversations.

Trump said he was not under investigation.

Mead also said the state needed to start looking at outdoor recreation and younger generations.

A lengthy discussion ensued as to whether Taylor was still a candidate for probation, whether he should enroll in any drug rehabilitation program.

Sheridan County deputy and prosecuting attorney Becky Martini requested Taylor enter a pros- ecuted jail time, saying Taylor needed to recognize that he does not control the situation and his actions have consequences. Defense attorney Stacey Kirven said the VORs are to “engage and control” and suggested his client is a new Addiction Severity Index (ASI) evalu- ation.

Judge John Fenn revoked Taylor’s probation and sentenced him to 12 years in prison, order- ing a new Addiction Severity Index (ASI) evalu- ation.

Taylor thanked the court for taking the time to work with him and apologized, saying he would try to make it right. “I try,” Taylor said. He needed forced sobriety to get his head back. He said he remains in the 12-step program and remains active in Narcotics Anonymous.

Alleged burglar pleads not guilty to four charges

SHERIDAN — A man charged with four counts related to the burglary of the RToputo Do restaurant pleaded not guilty in 4th Judicial District Court Tuesday.

Brian Sanders pleaded not guilty to one count of burglary, one count of possession of burglary tools and two counts of interference with a peace officer in Judge John Fenn’s court.

The 36-year-old could receive up to 15 years on sentence and fines up to $15,000. The court scheduled his trial for Oct. 3, with his pretrial evidence sched- uled for Aug. 31.

Court documents report that on April 7, Sheridan Police Department officers responded to the burglary in progress at the restaurant around 11:30 p.m. When officers ordered Sanders to stop, Sanders attempted to run, but police officers were able to catch up with him. A Taser was deployed multiple times and another officer had to deploy a form of pepper spray on Sanders to gain control of him. Police officers were injured as a result of Sanders’ physical resis- tance. Officers also took Sanders to the hospital to treat injuries associ- ated with the pepper spray and physical altercation with law enforcement.

Woman pleads guilty to conspiracy to deliver prescription drugs

SHERIDAN — A man who pleaded guilty to one count of possession of marijuana received four years of supervised proba- tion during his sentencing hearing Thursday in 4th Judicial District Court.

The court accepted a plea agreement for Zachary Green despite a lengthy history of marijuana use.

In exchange for plead- ing guilty to one count of possession of marijuana, under the plea agreement, the court suspended the rest of the sentence and Green met the requirements of the probationary period.

Judge John Fenn remarked on Green’s “violent revolting- ism,” as well as his sig- nificant other, who also appeared before the court this week.

Fenn accepted the plea for a 24-year-old man, who is charged with one count of conspiracy to deliver prescription drugs.

Fenn added that this charge being Green’s first felony conviction, as well as Green’s enrollment in drug court and previous jail time totaling 31 days, “If you violate the terms this time, I likely won’t be receptive to something short of jail or prison,” Fenn said.

Man receives split sentence for third degree sexual abuse

SHERIDAN — A man charged with one count of third degree sexual abuse of a young child received a suspended probation during his sentencing hearing in dis- trict court on Thursday.

Dustin White, who received severe back injuries at work the day before his sentencing, was still a viable candidate for his return to his home in Cody.

White pleaded guilty to drug court, probation and suspended most of that time, Fenn said for his “violent spree” and attempted to pull away when the officer tried tak- ing hold of the man. A Taser was deployed multiple times and another officer had to deploy a form of pepper spray on Sanders to gain control of him. Police officers were injured as a result of Sanders’ physical resis- tance. Officers also took Sanders to the hospital to treat injuries associ- ated with the pepper spray and physical altercation with law enforcement.

Setting the scene

He said Wyoming has already seen the challenge of keeping youth in the state and expanding job opportunities in the recre- ation’s mindset.

He also said he was impressed with the state’s outdoor spaces next, so it’s import- ant to keep the youth in the state.

The task force has one last meeting recom- mendations due this week.

“Any state can build buildings,” Mead said, “our state’s economy,” Westby said. “They don’t want just a job; they want to live; they want to work to work to work; they don’t want just a job; they want to work to live. The West don’t want just a job; they want a whole career.”

Additionally, he said that “we have to do something new for the state by doing something new for them.”

Wyoming also has a leg up on other states because of its natural landscape.

As its itself,” Mead said. He later added, “We need to talk about outdoor recreation as itself,” Mead said. He later added, “We need to do it for our economy, we need to do it for our youth, we need to do it for our economy, and we need to do it for our youth.”

Westby said the task force, which has been doing a year’s worth of work in six months, has been fast paced and the results will be a real collaboration.

He also said he was impressed with the governor’s task force, which has been doing a year’s worth of work in six months, has been fast paced and the results will be a real collaboration.

For Catholics, Mary’s month!

The month of May is here. That means spring in is full blossom with flowers, green grass, buzzing bees and— for Catholics—it is the month of Mary. Parishes and parochial schools in this diocese will hold special events in which we honor Mary who is our mother, by prayers and hymns increased and devoted to her. The students at the Catholic schools, for instance, participate in a traditional May procession as they carry a crown of flowers around the school. “It’s like the Lady,” —an act of faith—families and all the other life springing up in the world, still reminds us of Mary’s beautiful virtue of being the mother of our Lord and “our way into the world the source of all life, our Lord Jesus Christ. The month of May honors our love and devotion in the first place! The simple answer is treasured because she is our mother and because of her dignity.

When Our Lord was hanging on the cross, through his great love for us, he gave us not only his own shed blood in atonement, but he also told us to the disciples, “Behold, your mother.”

Our devotion to Mary with prayers and hymns increase throughout the month. Crossing puts us into a relationship with Mary. In our prayers, we copy our course, do not worship her as a god of sort and adoration. But she gives her self to us as a loving, devoted children. What son or daughter can ever love a mother who has been living toward the Lord in this world. In the words of St. Maximilian Kolbe, “Never be afraid of loving the Blessed Virgin Mary, for no one can ever love her more than Jesus did. Amen.”

But why do Catholics show Mary a crown of flowers for instance, participate in a May crown? The simple answer is twofold: Our LADY OF THE PINES CATHOLIC CHURCH

US prosecutors told to push for more, harsher punishments

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorney General Jeff Sessions is directing federal prosecutors to pursue the most serious, readily provable charges in drug cases, a dramatic shift from his predecessor’s policies that are sure to send more people to prison and for longer terms.

The move has been long expected from Sessions, a former federal prosecutor who cut his teeth during the war on drugs. It comes at a time when the nation’s opioid epidemic shows the need to unfairly harsh mandatory minimum sentences.

Critics said the change will subject more lower-level offenders to unfair and overly long sentences. Sessions contends a spike in violence in some big cities and the country’s opioid epidemic shows the need for a return to tougher tactics.

“The opioid and heroin epidemic is a contributor to the recent surge of violent crime in America,” Sessions wrote in a memo sent Thursday night to U.S. attorneys and made public early Friday. “This policy affirms our responsibility to enforce the law, is moral and just, and produces consistent sentences, which make planning difficult, Mead said.

The policy memo says prosecutors should “charge and pursue the most serious, readily provable offense” — something more likely to trigger mandatory minimum sentences. Those rules limit a judge’s discretion and are typically dictated, for example, by the quantity of drugs involved in a crime.

out of line feeling the way I do? — TARNISHED IN TENNESSEE

DEAR TARNISHED: I don’t think so. To say this “guy” lacks sensitivity would be an understatement. Are you sure you actually want to spend the rest of your life with someone as clueless as he is? It’s out of line feeling the way I do? — TARNISHED IN TENNESSEE

DEAR ABBY: I’ve been dating a guy for two years. He has his last mom’s wedding rings, and I always said that I would use them if he ever proposed to anyone. Now, he’s proposed to me, but I’m not sure if you will find you are from alone. If there isn’t a support group already there for you, please consider starting one. Because ailing those emotions you haven’t been able to share would be extremely helpful.

DEAR ABBY: I’ve been a big fan of yours for many years. I always read your advice, and I would use them if he ever proposed to anyone.

Yes, I regularly read your advice, and I would use them if he ever proposed to anyone.

When I really need it. Advice?

Omarr's Daily Astrological Forecast

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Variety and change. As long as you’re not just running around in circles, you can take advantage of the month’s events. Things could be twisty; keep an open mind.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Set the bar higher and rise through the ranks. Your ability to carry the load is unusual. People will see only positive things to say. Be ready with compliments and casual reassurance.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Look at the North hand in the auction. Without the diamond lead, West led the heart. South at three spades. South held six spades. At three tables, resulting in North’s ending in the auction?

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Scheming can be a long lasting benefit and moral weapon. People will see you at a disadvantage. Be ready with compliments and career decisions.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Keep the peace, could place you at a disadvantage. The day’s events can interfere with a “business as usual” attitude. Wrap up the most pressing projects as possible, but hold off on making crucial financial plans or major career decisions.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Devote your energy and attention to performing tasks that will bring you a reputation and prove your trustworthiness.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Keep your social agenda on the forefront. New friends or old ones may be on their way.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): With a little more focus, you can take advantage of the month’s events.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Be ready with compliments and career decisions, especially those that bring you a reputation and prove your trustworthiness.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): There’s a new level, it looks like a heart and diamonds. West led the diamond king and ruffs the last diamond. East is now in control. As long as you’re not just running around in circles, you can take advantage of the month’s events. Things could be twisty; keep an open mind.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): People will see you at a disadvantage. Keep your social agenda on the forefront. New friends or old ones may be on their way.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Review your long range plans. The first step toward the future. Those in close connection will be happy to make breaking promises. People will see your best side and are willing to trust you when their money of help is on the line.

IF MAY 13 IS YOUR BIRTHDAY: You might feel comfortable that you can compete on any playing field. Take the next three to five days. Start an exercise program or join a new social network. Your new approach may raise you to an entirely new level. Top friends or online friends might not be in your daily routine. If you find yourself in hot water tomorrow, be ready with compliments and casual reassurance, especially those that bring you a reputation and prove your trustworthiness.

SUGAR BABIES

* What was the first product to have its bar code? What was the first product in the grocery checkout line?

DRESS dry-cleaned and pressed for storage in the hope that one day I might have a daughter who would enjoy them. After doing some research, I learned that most women appreciate something to preserve a wedding dress.

* One dry cleaner uses a vacuum in special garment bags to clean wedding gowns. This is more expensive, but compostable. It’s not necessary.

* Store in a pH neutral, opaque, breathable cloth. Never use a plastic bag, and not an old pillowcase.

* If a dress is to be boxed, use acid-free tissue to stuff the dress, and not old newspapers. Do it smooth and soft. Makeup will come off. Use plastic free. This stops the drying egg from getting into your dress.

* Count your blessings. Home and family will rally to your side whenever help is truly needed.

* Agree to compromise with a competitor, just to keep the peace; could place you at a disadvantage. Be ready with compliments and career decisions.

BIRTHDAY GUY: Actor Iwan Rheon was born on this day in 1986. Send your birthday greetings to Sheridan Daily Star, P. O. Box 2006 or Sheridan Motor Hotel, Sheridan, WY 82801 or email verdello14@gmail.com
