The C-SPAN Cities Tour has explored more than 130 cities throughout the country, including Sheridan. Producers said it provided a perfect window into both Sheridan’s past and present. “It couldn’t have happened at a better time for us,” Lamb said. “…The rodeo really helps tell the narrative of this city.”

Cable television companies partner to create C-SPAN in 1979 as a nonprofit public service; the network exhaustively covers the U.S. Federal government, giving viewers an unfiltered look at the goings on of Congress and the President’s inner workings in their entirety.

Lamb said the network grew and expanded its programming and “WYO Rodeo would be at the center of the C-SPAN Cities Tour in 2011.” The program was created as a way to get people from Washington, D.C., and around the country to see some of the most important cultural, economic and political forces that shape the country’s wider history — from the way industries like coal contributed to the country’s economic growth, to the tensions between business and labor, to the creation and expansion of federal programs. “It couldn’t have happened at a better time for us,” Lamb said. “…”(The rodeo) really helps tell the narrative of this city.”

TOOHOMINTON — An arrest was made in former Goshen County Clerk Rickard Carlson’s office Friday after an eight-month investigation into missing courthouse accounts.

“Rickard Carlson was arrested today on suspicion of 2014-2018 county accounts fraud,” District Attorney Wes Gehring said in a press release. “The investigation into the theft was made by Special Agent Kevin Correa of the Wyoming State Auditor’s Office. It was initiated because of a tip from a former deputy clerk who was not employed by the county for some time.”

Carlson told Correa that she could not explain why funds were not available. She said she had been involved in the accounts for many years and had worked for the county before the investigation started.

Correa reviewed the actual deposits made into the QuickBooks system and determined there was a significant amount missing.

A warrant was issued for Carlson’s arrest, and she turned herself in to the local police. She was booked into the Saratoga Jail and is scheduled for a preliminary hearing on Aug. 15.

According to the affidavit of probable cause, Carlson was an employee of the Goshen County Clerk’s Office from January 2014 until her resignation in June 2016. During that time, her actions and omissions caused a loss of approximately $100,000.

Carlson was initially charged with one count of second-degree fraud, but that was later amended to one count of embezzlement.

The affidavit stated that Carlson started working in the Clerk’s Office as a receptionist in January 2014. In May 2015, she was hired as a deputy clerk and was given access to the QuickBooks system.

According to the affidavit, Carlson’s account balance started small, at a few hundred dollars, but quickly escalated to over $100,000, and she was alleged to be embezzling thousands of dollars from the county, in addition to other accounts.

The affidavit states that Carlson said she received checks on behalf of the county, and she would deposit them into the QuickBooks system, including the WYUSER account. She denied the office received proper medical care from the WYUSER account.

According to the affidavit, Carlson said that the WYUSER account had not been used since December 2014, but the account balance remained at $58,000. After she was fired, the account balance decreased to $42,000. Carlson said she had access to the WYUSER account, but she didn’t know why funds were not available.

The affidavit states that Carlson provided a civil causa declaration, which was provided to the Clerk’s office, but it was not accepted by the court. Carlson admitted to the receipt of $100,000, which was also provided to the Clerk’s office, but she did not know why the balance decreased.

The affidavit states that Carlson told the affidavit was not made up and that she had knowledge of the amount of funds that were not available.

The affidavit states that Carlson said she didn’t understand why there was a decrease in the balance and that she didn’t know why funds were not available.

Einstein story shows investigative journalism is thriving

NEW YORK (AP) — The Miami Herald's stories on sex trafficking charges against a former nun, Jeffrey Epstein’s power plays in the news media and other breaking news stories are part of the news media’s long tradition and are thriving as the news media industry struggles.

In announcing new budgets, The Associated Press said its annual newsroom budget in the next year will be $11.5 billion, a 14.5% increase over last year. The AP has invested in digital news, video and long-form stories, as well as in business and investigative reporting.

In 2019, AP’s Newsroom of the Year was 360,000, which was the same number of stories it reported last year. The AP said it has invested in investigative reporting and in covering the most important events and issues of the year, including breaking news about slavery and human trafficking.

The AP said it has made significant investments in its investigative reporting team, which now includes more than 150 journalists. The AP said it has doubled its staff of investigative reporters, and has invested in data and digital tools to help journalists develop stories.

The AP said it has also made investments in its local news operations, including new positions in investigative reporting, and has doubled its number of local reporters and editors.

The AP said it has also invested in its international news operations, which now include more than 150 journalists in 20 countries. The AP said it has doubled its number of local reporters and editors, and has invested in data and digital tools to help journalists develop stories.

Rip Torn, the free-spirited actor adopted the name Rip in his boyhood, following the tradition of his father and uncle. It was the intuitive trend: Investigative journalist Calvin Kazan, who hired him as understudy for the role of Professor Potts in a 1956 Broadway production of Tennessee Williams’s "Baby Doll," and within a few years Torn was an actor of powerful performances that led to his being regarded, along with Marlon Brando, Paul Newman and James Dean, as actors of a postwar generation who brought realism to their craft. He was also a political activist who joined James Baldwin, Harry Belafonte and other cultural and civil rights leaders for a Dansk and emotional 1981 meeting with then Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy about the country’s treatment of blacks. Torn made his film debut in 1959 in an impressively powerful performance as Tennessee Williams’ "Baby Doll," and within a few years he was a respected up-and-coming actor. He returned to the role in 1963 in "Baby Doll." The movie reunited him with Anne Bancroft, who played his wife in the Broadway production. In 1984, Torn was convicted and fined, but the verdict was overturned in a state appeals court. "I didn’t have a...

How to maximize beets' sweet, earthy flavor without mess

Under a microscope: Startups grow meat in lab, face scrutiny

In just 45 minutes, the beets were braised. We sought a streamlined stovetop way to maximize its earthy flavor without mess — with minimal cleanup.

Recipe for beets that maximize flavor

For 4 servings:

- 1/2 pound beets
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 2 medium shallots, chopped
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 1 teaspoon chopped fresh thyme
- 1/2 cup whole almonds, toasted and chopped
- 1/2 cup freshly grated Parmesan
- Salt and pepper
- 1 1/4 cups water
- 1 tablespoon balsamic vinegar
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt, and 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1 tablespoon water
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon zest
- 1/2 teaspoon salt, and 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1 tablespoon water
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon zest
- 1/2 teaspoon salt, and 1/4 teaspoon pepper

1. Remove the outer skin of the beets. Cut them into 2 to 3 inches in diameter. Place the beets in a straight-sided sauté pan. They should be partially submerged in just 1 1/4 cups of water so that they are just barely covered. Start to finish: 1 hour, 15 minutes

2. In a small bowl mix mayonnaise, olive oil and balsamic vinegar to make a glossy glaze. Transfer to serving.

3. Halve the beets cut down their sweet, earthy flavor—without mess. In a large skillet, heat the oil over medium heat. Add the nuts (or seeds, if using), and fry until golden brown. Transfer to a plate. Broil, turning once on a hot grill or cast iron pan until it starts to color. Reduce heat to low, cover, and simmer until the beets are tender and can be easily plucked with a fork before taking a bite. Before serving, place the beets, cut side down, in a single layer in Dutch oven. Add water and it’s own saupon salt and bring to simmer over high heat. Reduce heat to low, cover, and simmer until beets are tender and can be easily plucked with a fork. Serve warm.

BRAISED BEETS WITH LEMON AND ALMONDS

- 3 tablespoons diced fresh rosemary
- 1 shallot, sliced thin
- 1/2 cup whole almonds, toasted and served
- 2 tablespoons chopped fresh mint

SHERIDAN — First pitch Tuesday for a doubleheader involving the Sheridan Jets and Riverton Raiders was pushed back due to inclement weather. Rain rolled through Sheridan Monday night and Tuesday afternoon, causing adverse field conditions.

First base had a temporary pond adjacent to it and the infield as a whole needed addressing. The Jets players, coaches and parents went to work on the diamond.

By the time the game commenced, the same Jets were present. Sheridan downed Riverton 8-1 to improve to 29-9 as it continues to play its best baseball of the season.

“I feel like we’ve peaked in the last few games,” Sheridan’s Trevor Stowe said.

Stowe received the start Tuesday. After breezing through the top half of the first inning, his offense gave him more than enough run support in its half of the frame.

NOT EVEN A LITTLE RAIN CAN COOL OFF JETS

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Slowed by a balky ankle, trailing by a service break in the third set of her Wimbledon quarterfinal, Serena Williams appeared to be in trouble Tuesday against an opponent playing the tournament of her life.

Williams was down, yes. But out? No way. And now she is two victories from that 24th Grand Slam title that’s been barely eluding her. Lifting her play a much-needed notch down the stretch to grab the last three games, capping the comeback with her 19th ace — at 121 mph, no less — Williams reached the semifinals at the All England Club by gutting out a 6-4, 4-6, 6-3 win over 55th-ranked Alison Riske.

“I had to just button up and play hard,” said Williams, who owns seven Wimbledon titles. “She was playing her heart out.”

That she was. Riske, a 29-year-old from Pittsburgh, was appearing in her first major quarterfinal. For Williams, this was No. 51.

That might have made all the difference. It’s Williams who possesses boundless muscle memory in these situations, who knows what it takes to come through in the tightest contests on the biggest stages.

“I definitely thought maybe I had a peak here and there at a couple of openers, but Serena really upped her level, as only a champion would,” Riske said.

“It was really, actually, very interesting for me to be on the opposite end, because I felt her up her game and her intensity,” Riske said with a smile. “Yeah, I hope she takes the title now.”

Next for the 37-year-old Williams will be a match against 54th-ranked Barbora Strycova of the Czech Republic, who reached her first Grand Slam semifinal at age 33 with a 7-6 (5), 6-1 victory over No. 19 Johanna Konta of Britain. The other semifinal Thursday will be No. 7 Simona Halep of Romania against No. 8 Elina Svitolina of Ukraine.

Blackhawks acquire F Alex Nylander in trade with Sabres

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Blackhawks are taking a chance on another underachieving forward.

They hope it goes the same way as it did last time.

Nylander made promises on the same pathway, the way he did with his father, Michael, in 2001-02.

Nylander, who was acquired from Buffalo last season. He also had 10 goals and 19 assists in 39 games with the Rochester of the American Hockey League.

Jokiharju, the No. 29 selection in the 2017 draft, made his NHL debut in October and finished with no goals and 12 assists in 38 games in his first season with the Blackhawks. He also helped Finland to its fifth world junior hockey title in January.

Parting with the 20-year-old Jokiharju is a tough price to pay for Chicago, but it traded for defencemen Olli Maatta and Calvin de Haan in June. Bowman also said the organization is pleased with the progress of young prospects Adam Boqvist and Ian Mitchell.

“We feel like we have built up a good stable of young players and now we have the ability to make a move like this,” Bowman said. “It’s not easy to acquire talented players like Alex.”

Looking forward to being part of the Blackhawks organization, Nylander said “really good with development players, so I think they actually know what they’re doing.”

The 21-year-old Nylander made his NHL debut with Buffalo in April 2017, but he had just three goals and three assists in 19 games with the Sabres. He had some trouble with injuries and inconsistency.

Chicago missed the playoffs last season for the second straight year, but one of the bright spots was a trade for forward Dylan Strome in November. The 22-year-old Strome had struggled since he was drafted by Arizona with the No. 3 pick in 2015, but he broke out with the Blackhawks, collecting 17 goals and 34 assists in 83 games.

Strome benefited from playing with former juniors teammates Alex DeBrincat and Dylan Strome.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old single woman. I have been dating again for four years of total separation because of the coronaviruses, my 18- and 22-year-old daughters live again after four years of total absence. My 18-year-old recently started dating who recently started dating a 22-year-old overheard us being intimate (her bedroom is next to mine). There was no screaming or anything loud, no nudity or PDA, but at the same time, I don't want to be the cause of her discomfort. What should I do? -- GETTING BACK TO YOU, PIK3.

DEAR GETTING BACK: I've been happily married for 15 years. Over the last few years we have experienced our brushes with the prospect of infidelity, but we remain committed to each other. Our marriage is a healthy and happy one, and our commitment to each other has recently come into question. I've been fighting more than usual. Recently, a good friend of mine since childhood, and I have a former lover in the nose? If you punch your old friend and anger him enough to want to make him jealous? Will it make him jealous? Will it bring us closer to each other, or will it accomplish? Will it bring us closer to each other, or will it bring us closer to each other? Make this happen. One thing, however, is that bringing it up will cause more upset, and I'm afraid you closer to each other, or will it bring us closer to each other? Make this happen. One thing, however, is that bringing it up will cause more upset, and I'm afraid way to deal with her parents as sexual beings. She doesn't want to be the cause of her discomfort. What should I do? -- GETTING BACK TO YOU, PIK3.

Dear Readers: One of the best foods you can eat is a PINEAPPLE. It’s high in vita-tamins C and E, which support the immune system.

Vitamin A, beta carotene, thiamine, vitamins B6 and B12, and folic acid are also found in the fruit. You can help prevent certain cancers of the mouth, throat and larynx with a diet high in these nutrients. Don’t forget to enjoy the delicious taste of pineapple and you have a healthy, tasty fruit, good any time of the year. Your appliance. You never know what you might learn.

* When heating up anything, remove all metalware because it will cause burn-terrible drinks, but I also use my blender to

mix up cake batter rather than mixing it by hand. It does a much better job than hand mixing, and in only a few minutes. I also use it to make macaroons and blend scrambled eggs before cooking. The cleanup is easy, and the mixing is less messy. -- Beryl

Moore, D., Parkwood, Pa.

* If your microwave has a “Defrost” set button, you won’t be blown over when an impendting snowstorm hits. Just press the “Defrost” button.

Dear Heloise: Nearly everyone knows that a blender can be used to make terrible drinks, but I also use my blender to

mix up cake batter rather than mixing it by Public notices allow clients to monitor their government and make them ready to take the appropriate course. Independent newspapers assist in this cause by carrying out their partnership with the people in a thorough manner through public notices. By offering an independent and acknowledged record of public notices, newspapers foster a sound footing relating between government and its citizens. Newspapers have the expertise and experience to publish public notices and have done so since the Revolutionary War. Today, they remain an established, trustworthy and neutral source that ably transfers information between government and the people. Public notices are the lasting record of how the public’s interests are understood and protected in the most real and effective manner possible.
